We Want You!

Happy Hallowe'en from your fiends at the library!

Visit the library this Saturday, between 10:00 am and 1:00 pm, and pick up a craft bag to make your very own pumpkin and bat mobiles!

Can't wait to greet some new ghouls.
Give 'em pumpkin to talk about!

Testimonials

"Thanks for the creative spirit you bring to the library. You are the best!!!" Jennifer Cohen

"Followed your instructions, working fine. Thank you for your capable and timely assistance!" Sam Purdy

"Thank you so much for making a long, wearisome summer so much more enjoyable!" the Lennox family

"We LOVE OUR COMMUNITY LIBRARY, especially the wonderful people who work there and help keep it going in the community!" the Pozniak family

"Thanks for all you do at the library." Michael McKinnon

"Thank you for your kindness, patience and excellent ideas!" Tere Stinchcombe

"I have been impressed in the past few months of the ways you have found to connect with the community and continue the work of the library electronically." Peggy Stewart

"Thanks for that great box load [of books]! So thankful for all of these resources during this time." the Welch family

"Thanks for the news from home. What's this about a new librarian? I hope you're not planning an escape... any attempt will be futile. You will be caught and you will be sent back to the portable." Julie Beebe

"I liked almost all of your last year picks. This is my busy season so I'm not getting a lot of reading done but I will certainly have a look and it is good to know there are some new titles waiting for me in the fall and winter." Fred Henderson

"Thank you so much for your hard work and dedication to our little library. You have made it a warm and welcoming place in our community." Anne and Bob Ireland

"Hurray, thank you for all your hard work!" Heather Cox

"Look forward to seeing you once again. We have sure missed our library!!" the Maika family

Search for a New Library Building Postponed

Strategic Planning Deferred

The library reacted promptly to the pandemic, adding safety equipment, policies, and procedures, migrating services online, holding virtual board meetings, and outfitting the library with a pick-up doorway. Although library services were continuous, the library building itself was off limits to the public for 22 weeks last year.

Curbside pick-up available Thursday afternoons!

Ask the librarian how to browse the online catalogue and place holds for Thursday pick-up. You can reach her by email during the library's regular hours, from 12 noon to 5 pm, Tuesdays to Fridays.

Community

The library would like to thank its many volunteers in the community. The quality and reach of library services is enhanced every year with donations of time, skills, service, knowledge, and funds.

Thank you to the Friends of the Wollaston Library, who sponsored several resources available at the library, including our book collections and the public access computers. Anne Ireland was tireless in performing a variety of essential library tasks in assisting staff as conditions permitted throughout the year.

Thank you to the library board members, who volunteered extra time to fund-raise and manage pop-up book sales.

Community

From the school, we would like to thank Rob Lake and Mark Reid for their cheerful welcome, for facilitating library programs and exchanges with the students, and for taking care of outdoor lighting, walkway clearing, and window repairs.

We must also thank our student volunteers, who helped with a variety of tasks in summer and fall.

Finally, we thank the Municipal staff and the Council for their unfailing support of the library.
